DOES IT PAY TO KEEP CHICKENS? WE SAY IT DOES.

Enterprise Ledger.

Every year witnesses the usual crop of persons desiring to enter into the poultry business. From the annual crop only one in twenty-five stick, but the one that does stay with the game, by "rumpion," comes through and makes the proposition pay.

Last April Dr. Gibson, having become interested in the poultry, decided to "try it a barrel." He ordered 500 baby chicks from a reliable breeder, paying the necessary price to get good stock and that it will pay him to look after. From the 500 chicks he raised about 200 pullets, and after culling these about November, had left 170 head that possessed all the necessary requirements to make them sell out a sufficient number of eggs to not only pay for the feed consumed but a profit besides.

From the flock of 170 the Doctor is now getting from eight to ten dozen eggs daily. After the feed is paid, there is a nice profit left.

But, what Dr. Gibson is doing, it might not be possible for you to do. Then again, it might be entirely possible. He looks after his pullets with intelligence and care, feeding them as they should be fed and keeping their quarters sanitary at all times. Anybody any where can make chickens pay if they'll go after it. By next fall he hopes to have 500 lay ers.

Do chickens pay? Do you think a profit of $50.00 per month on an investment of less than $400.00 is paying? Think it over, "plant" a few hens.

France proposes to grow cotton in Africa, to supply her needs at least. Ever will French and Belgium pea Congo labor conditions, these United States will supply the world with cotton at a profit provided—always provided—that we do not grow cotton at a single cash crop—Alabama Traveler.

THE DAIRY BUSINESS.

Plain milk is now selling at 12 1/2 cents a pint. A cow that will give four gallons a day would produce a daily gross income of $4.00, an annual income of $1,460. Twice as much milk as is used would be used if the price was normal. At the present price many of the ones who need milk can't buy it. Milk could be produced at one-half to one-third the present cost if dairymen had plenty of pasture and grew plenty of feed.

The dairy calves sold for veal are valuable to later supply milk cows, but with no pasture, with no feed, with an increasing demand for milk, Alabama's greatest industrial opportunity grows to be oppressive.—Alabama Traveler.

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER INJURED WHEN TRAIN HITS TRUCK AT OPP

Opp Weekly News says:

Another grade crossing accident which cost one young man his life and in which another was seriously injured occurred here yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon when the L. and N. passenger train No. 32 struck a truck on the railroad crossing just beyond the Opp Cotton Mills.

The truck was loaded with lumber and was driven by Mr. Jesse Woodham. Another young man, Mr. Frazier Watley, was on the truck with Mr. Woodham, both the men being employed on the building operations in connection with the Nicolas Cotton Mills. They were coming toward Opp with the load of lumber, and as a steep bluff on the east side of the railroad and the rattling of the lumber prevented them from hearing the whistle of the approaching train they had no warning of their danger until the train was upon them.

The train hit the truck about the middle, hurling the two men about sixty feet. From the best information obtainable Mr. Woodham fell in the middle of the train passed over him, while Mr. Watley fell just outside the main line track between the rails of the siding for the Nicolas Cotton Mills, his head striking one of the rails. The truck was completely demolished and the lumber scattered for a hundred yards or more up the track to where the train was brought to a stop.

Judge E. Y. Adams and Mr. T. J. Pierce, Sr., who were just behind the truck on a car witnessed the accident. Two men, whose names we did not learn, happened to be near by when the accident occurred, together with the train crew, gave what assistance they could to the injured men, while Mr. Adams and Mr. Pierce drove to the cotton mills and telephoned for a doctor. When they returned to the scene of the accident Mr. Watley was still conscious and talked with them, telling them that he was fatally injured. Mr. Woodham was unconscious at the time the train hit the truck.

Both the injured men were taken to the home of Mr. Woodham, father of Jesse Woodham, where such medical aid as could be given was administered, but Mr. Woodham lived only a few minutes after reaching his father's home. Mr. Watley was rushed to an Andalusia hospital, and at eight o'clock this morning was still alive though this condition is considered critical.

As before stated Mr. Woodham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Woodham, of Opp. He was about 22 years old and is survived by a wife and one child, a babe about 4 months old. He was associated with his father as contractor and builder. He was a fine young man and well liked by everybody in the community. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at Hickory Grove church and interment will be made in Hickory Grove cemetery.

Mr. Watley seems to have been a new comer here and not much could be learned of him except that he came here with others when work on the new cotton mills began or some time after that and his people live at Poley. He is about 17 years of age.

SANITARY SEWERAGE PLANNED AT SAMSON

Samson, Ala., Jan. 11.—At the council meeting this week the councilmen closed a deal with Rust Williamson, an engineer of Dothan, to make a survey of the city for a sanitary sewerage system. He will begin work on the survey Monday. Bids will be asked on constructing the system. The system will be built on the assessment plan, the cost of construction being divided among the lots. Bonds will be issued for the cost.

The engineer stated he would involve the least possible expense but the system would be made adequate to take care of future growth.

The council has turned over to Charles Henderson, president of the water company, a request for extension of water mains and more fire plugs.

HACODA MAN LOSES LEG WHEN RUN OVER BY CENTRAL TRAIN

Hacoda, Jan. 8.—J. R. Wallace, Justice of Peace, and aged citizen of this town, happened to a very bad accident last Friday night when train No. 13, of the Central of Georgia, ran across his right leg, cutting his foot off. Mr. Wallace had been off attending to some business and was returning home when his foot became fouled in the switch frog, making it impossible for him to release it before the train came along. The train had blown for the crossing, according to a report, before the aged man attempted to cross, thinking he would easily cross over the rails before the train neared him. When he realized he was fouled, he unlaced the shoe on the right foot, and falling in that effort, he began flagging and yelling to the engineer. However, the engineer did not check his engine and the old gentleman fell as far out from the rail as possible, breaking his leg above where it was cut off.

Mr. Wallace will be seventy years old sometime during next March. Last reports from his bedside were favorable. The leg was amputated about half way between the ankle and knee. Drs. Tansley, Bedsole, and Rivenbark treated him.

TWO ARE KILLED IN JEFFERSON STORM

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 11.—At least two deaths resulted, several persons were injured and much property damage was done by the storm that struck outlying sections of Alabama yesterday afternoon according to reports coming in here today.

J. E. Hargett, farmer living in the northern section of Tallapoosa county was killed when his barn blew down. R. M. Lambeth, of Mount Pinson, Ala., was killed by falling timbers during a storm of cyclonic proportions which struck the Mount Olive community six miles west of Goodwater, Ala. He was visiting at the home of John T. Vardaman at that time.

In the same section the barn and garage of Neil Shurtett was demolished and Mrs. Shurtett and their two sons, Paul and Fred, were seriously injured. The cyclone cut a half-mile path and wrecked a number of houses. Three livestock were killed in the state.

During the severe windstorm in Birmingham, John Shawyer of the Shawyer Advertising Agency, was fatally injured when he either was hit by an automobile or fell trying to handle the car at a street crossing. He died a few hours later. Property damage in Birmingham amounted to several thousands of dollars.

FALLS SIXTEEN FEET BUT ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY.

Opp, Ala., Jan. 12.—Charlie Stinson, while working on the new picture show building Friday afternoon, fell a distance of 16 feet. His right arm was dislocated and he suffered several painful injuries, but was not seriously injured.

He was carried to Josey's drug store, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. J. C. McLeod, and later removed to his home.

'WILL PUT ALA. IN FRONT'—DOWELL

Experimental Lines Will Be Built at Several Points in Alabama—First
Search Work to Start at Auburn Polytechnic Institute.

Auburn, Ala., Jan. 7.—(Special)—Definite arrangements have been completed between the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the Alabama Power Company whereby research work of a more comprehensive nature than ever before attempted will be conducted in practical means and methods of supplying southern farmers with hydro-electricity, according to an announcement made today by President Dwight D. Dowell. Sufficient funds have been appropriated by the Alabama Power Company to cover the costs of experiments over a three-year period during which research work in electricity to be done and practical studies will be made on farms located in different sections of Alabama.

Discussion and consideration of this project have been in progress for some time and, now that the agreement has been signed, actual work will begin immediately.

As explained by Dr. Dowell, the Alabama Power Company will furnish electrical engineers who will work in cooperation with agricultural engineers of the Experiment Station. They will determine how electric power may be delivered to the farms of Alabama, and utilized in farm homes and in farming operations to provide the same benefits enjoyed by city dwellers.

Under agreement, the Alabama Power Company will build experimental lines at points in the state, representative of agricultural sections of different types where the application of electricity to agriculture is believed to be most feasible. The investigation will be carried on under expert guidance after conditions in these communities have been studied and the needs ascertained. President Dowell has received assurance of the cooperation of the farmers which will be necessary for the success of the plan.

In conjunction with the work in rural sections, the Experiment Station here will be completely electrified and the several departments will make a careful study of the possible uses of electricity in all agricultural activities. The work at the Experiment Station as well as that throughout the State will be under the immediate direction of the Department of Agricultural Engineering. Each department of the Experiment Station will cooperate with the Department of Agricultural Engineering in conducting the work in the Rural Electrification Division. Study will be made of the possible use of electricity in operating feed grinders, corn shellers, hay balers, clipping machines, groomers, ice cream freezers, cream separators and other equipment used on a live stock farm. A special study will be made of the use of electricity in operating incubators, brooders, egg graders and egg candlers on poultry farms.

The electrification of canneries, dryers and vegetable curing machinery, spray pumps and fruit grading machinery will be studied by the Horticultural Department. Electricity in the operation of fertilizer mixers, on-silage cutters, seed graders, peanut pickers, gin, small grain harvesters, harrows, crushers and other general farming machinery will be considered. Over one hundred uses of electricity on farms have been listed for investigation.

In commenting on this program Dr. Dowell said: "Alabama is a rural state and one of the main purposes of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute is to serve the farmer. This is one of the most important experimental projects undertaken by the Experiment Station. Work along this line has been done in a minor way in other states but our purpose is to make a thorough and comprehensive study which will reveal all unknown facts involved. We want to determine how the 250,000 farmers of Alabama, as well as those in other states, can receive the benefits of the use of electricity now enjoyed by the city dwellers. Places Alabama is in the front rank among the states of the Union in work of this kind."

ANDALUSIA FARMER WOMAN FAINTS AND STRUCK BY COAL CAR FALLS ON RATTLER AND DIES INSTANTLY BUT IS NOT BITTEN

Andalusia, Ala., Jan. 12.—Boney Adkison, 45, farmer, residing near the Adellum School, three and one-half miles from Andalusia, was instantly killed here at noon Saturday when a single coal car bore down upon him in the yards of the Central of Georgia railroad at a siding just opposite the shops of the Andalusia Manufacturing Co. It is believed that as he stepped from behind a standing car the heavy coal car, which had been cut loose from the engine, bore down upon him without his knowledge, severing his left leg near the hip, crushing the left arm and cutting two or three deep gashes in his head, causing instant death.

Mr. Adkison is survived by his immediate family, composed of his widow, one married daughter and three sons and one brother, Ed Adkison. The body was placed in readiness for burial Sunday at Adellum at the Bengun funeral parlors. The deceased was widely known and highly thought of by a wide circle of friends here and over this section, where he has made his home for many years.

BOY SACRIFICES LIFE TO SAVE HIS PET DOG

Fort Payne, Ala., Jan. 9.—Johnny Long, eight year old son of Mrs. Homer Adams, sacrificed his life here last yesterday to save his dog. With two other companions, the lad was walking the tracks of a railroad. A fast train came down upon them and the boys leaped to safety. Johnny noticed that his dog seemed unharmed and he jumped back on the tracks to save his pet. He tossed the dog from the track but was caught under the train.

One evidence that the church is divine is that it is supported by voluntary offerings. Not an amusement or a business on earth could be run that way. There is no organization on earth that gets the returns for the money it spends as the Board of Missions.

During the coming month, for the Centenary, remember this and pray for the effect of every dollar that you put in.

Did you see the picture of the Memorial hospital to be at Montgomery in the Advertiser? The main building has just been completed at a cost of over $200,000 and now the contract has just been let to build the first wing at a cost of $58,000. This wing will be the maternity ward. You are asked to help in this great enterprise by joining the Golden Cross and paying a membership fee of 25c for children and $1.00 for adults. See Mrs. William Foley at Liberty and Mr. J. L. Mixson at Elba and give them your membership fees.

People perish for lack of knowledge, and for this reason our church has set the last week in January as good literature week, in which we hope to have every member of the church a subscriber to the Alabama Christian Advocate, and as many as possible to the Nashville Advocate with general information all over the church. Nobody can be an intelligent church member without knowing what the aims and intents and the everyday doings of the church are. Don't fail to see your pastor and give him a subscription to at least the Alabama Advocate.

THE COUNTY AGENT AND FARM BUREAU

BY R. G. ARNOLD

As stated last week, I am in the county agent's assistance possible to the farmers, and our first move is to get in touch with each community and study first hand the problems that we as farmers are to solve in the coming year 1924.

On the 24th of January, or Thursday week at 10 o'clock the farmers from all over Coffee county are requested to attend a mass meeting at the courthouse in Elba. Representatives from the Farm Bureau at Montgomery, probably Mr. O'Neal, and also from Auburn will be present on that date to discuss the bigger problems facing Coffee county farmers in the coming season. Special stress will be laid on home mixing of fertilizers, co-operative marketing and farm organization, as well as bollweevil control work, terracing, and other questions of interest to every farmer. In the meanwhile we hope to hold a number of community meetings preparatory to but one meeting at Elba.

During the few days I have been in Coffee county, the splendid type farmers and soils have attracted my attention. Many counties over Alabama have a poverty of farmers but not so in Coffee. The man and the land are very fortunately side by side, and it only remains now for the farmer on his farm to make the best of it; to improve that soil so that it will improve him, because the farmers only bank account is his soil. If we keep our soil, our soils will keep us; if we rob our soils, our soils will finally drag us down to debt, mortgage and despair. Then it is up to us as business farmers to do everything to keep these soils in a high state of fertility and productivity. There is only one sure rule to farm by and that is to have good land and keep the weeds down and a crop will always be assured. Livestock is the backbone of the soil every year. Dairying will pay good dividends in Coffee county and every farmer should, ship his surplus milk which is bringing 50 cents per pound now for butterfat, feed the skim milk to calves, hogs and chickens and return the fertilizer back to the soil to make it rich and productive over of bigger and bigger crop yields. Any man who has travelled over the South and studied farm conditions will tell you that a section is a rich section. They have money in the bank, a weekly cash income year in and year out, and a credit section to none in the land. Another important feature of the work we are trying to introduce in Coffee County is the Boys and Girls Club work. Mr. Progressive Farmer, give your boy a pig or a calf or an acre of land and let him do something for himself. There is but one way to teach a farmer and that way is to farm, and if you would have your boy become a prosperous livestock farmer give him some stock to protect with while he is young. Let him grow up with the shoats and the cattle and when he is old these things learned through daily contact and association with the early youth will not depart from him after he becomes a man. And I believe after eleven years experience with boys club work that if you encourage your boy to join some of our clubs offered, that at the end of the year or at the time of exhibition next fall of the products of these youngsters, most everyone will have reason to judge from the fruits of their labor, to the end that love's labor was not lost and we will have a clearer vision than ever of the scriptural injunction, "A little child shall lead them."

you, no one else can," he is quoted as saying just before firing the fatal shots. He arrived here after her Sunday morning, but she refused to go with him.
